Chalmers Cars

A duplicate of the exhibit which attracted so much attention at the Madison Square Garden Show in New York, will be held in our show rooms all this week.

There will be a "cut-out" Chassis showing every part of the Chalmers car in operation just as when on the road.

Lee Lorimer, the famous racing driver, will exhibit the "Blue-Bird" with which he has won so many victories in contests of speed and endurance.

Lorimer will be on hand at the exhibit afternoons and evenings and will talk on the care, management and operation of automobiles.

He will tell how he won victories in Chalmers cars and how to get the most out of an automobile on the road

TEAM GIVES WITMER MISERABLE SUPPORT

Virginia's Star Twirler Pitches Winning Ball, but Seven Errors Are Made Behind Him--Lafayette Wins Game by Score of 4 to 2.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., April 5.—Lafayette turned the tables on Virginia by capturing today's contest by a score of 4 to 2. The Pennsylvania had everything their own way until the sixth inning, when the Southerners began to land on Fager, who started off to twirl for the visitors.

After two corking hits had been made in succession, Fager gave the distress signal, and was succeeded by Demott, the quaker star, who allowed but one scratch hit in the remaining innings. Besides pitching masterly ball, Demott lined out a beautiful home run in the eighth inning.

Witmer again pitched winning ball, but received miserable support. He allowed but three hits.

Norris opened the third with a single, and Fager walked. Both advanced on Kaspzak's sacrifice, the former scoring on a fielder's choice, and the latter on a fumble by Witmer.

Some weird throwing in the infield enabled Lafayette to add one in the sixth, and in the eighth Demott hit for the circuit.

Virginia's only run came in the sixth. Rohan was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on a fielder's choice and counted on Lile's single to right field. Lile got to second on a passed ball, and tallied on Fitchett's drive to left. The fielding features were Fager's jumping catch of a sizzling liner from Douglas's bat, and Fitchett's stop of Fager's hot grounder. The entire Lafayette team fielded in excellent form. Conover, Lafayette's mainstay behind the bat, who was hit over the eye in one of the North Carolina games, was back in his old position, and performed like a veteran. He and Demott appear to be one of the best bats in the league.

WALKER PITCHES HIS FIRST GAME

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., April 5.—The Tars again suffered defeat at the hands of the Giants this afternoon by the score of 3 to 2. Walker, who was expected to make his debut with glory in the field, making a bundle of errors that the merciful thinned down to a paltry seven through kindness of heart.

Walker, of the last year's University of Virginia team, went the first four innings for the Tars. He was given an ovation by the fans and received miserable support. It was not his fault that the three runs leaked across during his performance. He handled the various holes the team put him into cleverly, and with better infield support and a catcher, would have gotten past all of the danger points. Johnson and Welch were found rather freely in the last four innings, but with better support, would have showed up to advantage.

V. P. I. EASILY DEFEATS
RANDOLPH-MACON TEAM

Showing Made by Methodists Was Great Disappointment—Tells Take

Game by Score of 7 to 2.

Blacksburg, Va., April 5.—The game here this afternoon with Randolph-Macon was a disappointment. V. P. I. winning easily by a score of 7 to 2.

The visitors had been heralded as a heavy-hitting team, with a strong battery. But only one hit was gotten on Renfer to eight of the two men in the box for the Methodists. There were no sensational plays, the only features of the game being the batting and fielding of Furque and the work of Renfer, who pitched until the ninth inning, when Evans went in.

This is the third game the Techs have won in ten days.

Batteries: V. P. I.—Renfer, Evans; Stoneburner and Leggett. Randolph-Macon—Cravely, Smith and Beville.

Errors: V. P. I., 1; R. M. A., 8. Hits—off Renfer, 1; off Smith, 4; off Cravely, 4. Struck out—by Renfer, 2; by Evans, 3; by Smith, 3; by Cravely, 1; by Umpires, Johnson and Vetter, V. P. I.

Manager Lawlor's Colts played like veterans in the game yesterday afternoon with Dahlen's National Leaguers from Brooklyn.

Disasters and heart-rending to an extreme, the eighth inning, due to heavy winds, saw the appearance of fast base running by the visitors, proved Richmond's Waterloo.

After holding the heavy-hitting Brooklynites to two scratch hits, Brooks let down in the final inning, allowing four safe hits, with a total of five runs, which practically put an end to a game which up to this time had been fast and intensely interesting in every particular.

Colts in Fine Trim.

In the field the home team showed up in fine trim, and there was no play that was more than once to safe territory. Brooklyn started the run-getting in the first inning, Burch bunted a slow one down the first base line and beat it out. He stole second and made good for a count when Bigbie rapped a line drive over Wheat's head. Hunter followed with a grounder to Bigbie, and had to be credited with a hit, as no Richmond player showed up in time on first.

Hale showed up in excellent form, and in the four innings he was on the firing line allowed only three singles, two of which were scratches. After the first inning he allowed only one runner to reach first base.

Ten Men Faced Brooks.

Brooks succeeded Hale in the fifth inning, and in the three rounds following only ten men faced him. He started off by striking out Bergen, the first man to face him, and made a clever one-hand stop of Wilhelm's hot drive. Burch fanned. In the sixth Hunter hit one to the pitcher that was too hot to handle. It made little difference, as Kofel caught the runner a minute later in his effort to pilfer second.

Richmond made her first score in the seventh, tying the game. Landgraft singled over second base, stole second, and crossed the plate when McMillan threw wild to Daubert, in an effort to catch Titman. McMillan robbed Manager Lawlor of a hit when he went up into the air and pulled the sailing sphere from the clouds.

The eighth inning opened with Miller batting for Wilhelm. Ten balls were thrown over the plate before he could be induced to strike out, seven of which he fouled. Burch walked and stuck to the sack when Wheat popped up to Kofel. Hunter drew a free pass to first. Burch and Hunter pulled off a well-executed double steal, and both came in on Myer's hit, a bounding grounder to centre field.

Daubert singled, and a double steal again followed. McElveen hit safely to deep centre, scoring Myer and Daubert. McElveen stole second and added another to Brooklyn's score on McMillan's liner to left field. Bergen was out to Titman and the fatal inning ended.

Richmond could do nothing in her half of the ninth.
